COOLIDGE BLOCKS EMPLOYMENT OF HENEY GET READY NOW FOR DRESS UP EVENT TILLER TO HEAD COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

RIDDLE SUCCESSOR CHOSEN FROM LIST OF 33 'APPLICANTS'

Geneva County Man to Be Superintendent at Hartselle

MISS TATUM TO BE SUPERVISOR

Re-elected at Meeting of County Board of Education Today

Professor W. T. Tiller, of Hartford, Ala., superintendent of the county high school of Geneva County, today was elected superintendent of the Morgan County high school at Hartselle, to succeed Prof. J. H. Riddle, resigned. Prof. Riddle's resignation was greatly regretted by the county board of education.

Members of the board knew, however, that the veteran teacher was determined to resign some time ago. His resignation will become effective at the end of the present school year, at which time Prof. Tiller will assume his new duties.

The election of the new superintendent took place at the Morgan County court house near noon today at a special meeting of the county board of education.

The meeting was presided over by John T. Kyle, of Hartselle, president of the board. Prof. E. L. Hayes, of Hartselle, secretary of the board and Morgan County superintendent of education, B. L. Malone, of Albany, Professor H. T. Lile of Trinity, W. T. Crawford of Baileyton, Route No. 1, near Ryan, and R. L. Garner of Hartselle, the other members of the board, were all present at the meeting.

Following the acceptance of the resignation of Professor Riddle, it was announced to the board that a large number had applied for superintendent of the Morgan County high school, exactly 33 applications being made.

The men applying were reported as being among the ablest school teachers in the state of Alabama. Professor Hayes stated it appeared to him a distinct compliment to Professor Tiller that he was elected by the board.

The new superintendent was very highly recommended. He is nearing fifty years of age, it was stated.

Many tributes of praise were accorded Professor Riddle by members of the board, who directed that Professor E. L. Hayes be asked to prepare suitable resolutions expressive of the high esteem in which Professor Riddle is held by the Morgan County board of education.

The election of Miss Kate Lou Tatum, to another term as supervisor for the county also took place at the board meeting. Miss Tatum was recently offered a position in a much larger field, it was stated. Miss Tatum will study this summer at Columbia University. It was announced that three mill school tax elections are to be held at the call of the county board of revenue soon in the Hartselle, Trinity and Union Hill school districts. The last two districts are to be enlarged at once.

It was also announced that the contract for the new public school building to cost about $30,000 has just been let. The brick and tile for the building will be furnished by the Alabama Brick and Tile company of Decatur, it was stated. Professor Hayes declared that nowhere north of Birmingham would there be a more valuable school building or one equipped better than the new Falkville public school building.

HUGO STINNES DIES AFTER OPERATIONS

HUGO STINNES

(Associated Press)
BERLIN, April 11—Hugo Stinnes, more closely identified with German industrial life than any other man, died last evening at 8:30. Indefatigable in his labors, he struggled against the impending end, and was conscious to the last.

Around him were gathered his wife and children. To them he had devoted in his later years all the time he could spare from his vast business interests. There had been no hope for his recovery for many hours and the foremost medical skill could do nothing against the ravages of disease.

Three major operations had been performed, the first about four weeks ago for gallstones, and it was owing to the impossibility of keeping the patient quiet, according to the surgeons, that complications arose, necessitating further operations, the last reported that pneumonia developed.

REPUBLICANS WILL MEET ON MAY 13TH

Republicans of Morgan County will May 13, when delegates will be selected to represent the county in the state convention, which will be held in Birmingham on May 20, and to attend the eighth district meeting, to be held here on May 19.

A call for the meeting of the members of the republican party in Morgan County was issued today by G. O. Chenault, chairman of the executive committee of the county.

Mr. Chenault's call stated that all persons "who believe in the principles of the republican party" are invited to attend, irrespective of past party affiliation.

IMMIGRATION CODE WITH JAPANESE PUT IN CONCRETE TERMS

Correspondence Over Question Exchanged With Ambassador

JAPAN IS WILLING TO CONSIDER PLAN

Looks With Doubt on the Proposals to Further Curb Immigration

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 11—The famous "gentlemen's agreement," under which Japanese immigration to the United States was curtailed, has been reduced to concrete terms for the first time, in an exchange of correspondence between Secretary Hughes and Ambassador Hanihara.

The diplomatic message, calculated to clarify the issue over Japanese exclusion, which has been raised in congress during discussion of the new immigration legislation, was forwarded by Mr. Hughes today to Chairman Galt, of the senate immigration committee.

Heretofore the international understanding between Washington and Tokio on the subject has been based on a long succession of exchanges and precedent and the exact terms of the agreement never have been reduced to precise form.

In reaffirming the principle of the agreement, the Japanese ambassador's letter to Secretary Hughes denied charges by Pacific coast senators that the understanding has not been scrupulously observed.

It was asserted that Japan was willing to continue the agreement in force with full promises of its observance, but would look with serious doubt on proposals for a more drastic exclusion provision.

Secretary Hughes, in reply said the ambassador's statement of the essential point in the gentleman's agreement corresponded with his own understanding of the arrangement.

The ambassador expressed hope that full consideration would be given to the grave consequences the proposed exclusion clause in the immigration bill would bring.

HONDURAN CAPITAL BOMBED FROM AIR

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 11—Air pilots of Honduran revolutionary forces have begun bombing raids on Tegucigalpa, the capital, and have killed a number of women and children.

Four bombs were dropped near the ground where members of the American landing force from the cruiser Milwaukee at Amapala were exercising but, dispatches to the navy department today from Rear Admiral Dayton made no mention of any casualties among the American naval force.

Alleged Slayer of Girl Still Missing

(Associated Press)
BONIFAY, April 11—Sheriff Johnson, of Holmes County, stated today he had a pretty good idea concerning the whereabouts of W. A. Fatt, wanted in connection with the killing early this week of Mrs. Erie Hatcher on the road to Black, Ala., near the state line, and believed he would capture the fugitive within the next few days. The killing took place in a sparsely settled section of the county and Fatt escaped into the surrounding woods.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO POLITICAL PARTIES LOOKED INTO AGAIN

Information Is Sought About Bank Loan of $3,000,000

CLIENT TOO ILL; ATTORNEY TALKS

Boyce Thompson Denies Money Given to the Party's Coffers

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 11—Returning to its inquiry into possible oil company contributions to national political campaign funds, the senate oil committee today sought information about a $3,000,000 loan made by the Chase National bank in New York, in 1919, to William Boyce Thompson, formerly chairman of the ways and means committee of the republican national committee.

Declaring his client was too ill to appear, William Wallace, Jr., attorney for Thompson, testified that the $3,000,000 loan was secured by $50,154 shares of Sinclair oil stock, but insisted it had nothing to do with the campaign funds. He said Thompson had no part in republican financing until after the 1920 campaign and that the Chase bank loan was repaid in full in 1919.

The lawyer also read into the record a telegram from Thompson, who had been sought by committee subpoena server for more than two weeks saying he had been out of the Sinclair interests since 1921. Thompson was said to have failed to respond to the committee's summons because he is confined to a sanatorium in Arizona.

Apparently voluntarily and speaking for his client, Wallace denied that Thompson had borrowed large sums to wipe out the national committee deficit after 1920.

Wallace later testified that Thompson had reinvested in Sinclair stock in 1922.

MARSHALL COUNTY GIRL IS INDICTED

(Associated Press)
GUNTERSVILLE, Ala., April 11—Miss Ona McClendon was indicted today by the Marshall county grand jury on a second degree murder charge in connection with the killing of Jeff Love, Albertville merchant, Love was fatally shot several weeks ago on a lonely mountain road while out riding with the girl.

Miss McClendon's plea has been that Love shot himself accidentally during a scuffle for possession of the weapon. She has been out on a $2,000 bond following a preliminary hearing. Her trial was set for April 24.

Daugherty Still Defies the Probers

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE
April 11—A refusal to produce the records of the Midland national bank or to allow their clients to appear in person before the senate Daugherty investigating committee was entered today by attorneys for M. S. Daugherty, brother of the former Attorney General.

The refusal was final, the attorney said, and Chairman Brookhart notified him proceedings charging M. S. Daugherty and his associates with contempt of the senate would be sought.

Californian Is Named Reclamation Director.

ELWOOD MEAD

Elwood Mead, of California, noted reclamation engineer, has been appointed Director of Reclamation of the Department of the Interior by President Coolidge, who ousted David W. Davis, a Harding appointee. His action was expected by some in Washington to foreshadow the resignation of Dr. Hubert Work as Secretary of the Interior.

CALLS ATTENTION TO BOYS' CAMPS

As president of the local culture club, Mrs. George D. Williamson, has been asked by government officials to call attention to the federal government's citizen's training camps to be opened to "red blooded boys" between the ages of 17 to 24 years" this summer, July 3 to August 1, inclusive.

Mrs. Williamson stated that camps for boys from Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and all other southern states east to the Atlantic ocean would be located this year at Camp McClellan, Ala., at Fort Bragg, N. C., and at Fort Barrancas, Fla.

The government sends the boys to and from these camps, and "subsists" them at the camps and has them trained.

Mrs. Williamson stated that these camps care for all boys between the ages named, that millions could be cared for under section 47 of the national defense act as amended June 4, 1920.

Mrs. Williamson said that the news of these camps, where board and clothes, lodging and training are free at the expense of the national government, should be good news to the parents of all boys eligible to enter the camps.

RENEWED VIGOR MARKS REVIVAL SERVICES AT CENTRAL METHODIST

With the first week of the Central Methodist revival judged successful by the many workers of that church, the campaign will continue next week with renewed vigor, it was announced by chairman of the various committees, today.

Great encouragement is felt by the workers because of the large turnout of Thursday night, although it had rained most of the day and was raining in the evening the church was filled.

Dr. James D. Hunter was unusually forceful and eloquent in his sermon of last night. The appeal of the minister was made especially to the business men of the community.

This evening Dr. Hunter will speak to the younger people of the community on the problems that confront those who have just entered upon the active duties of life.

The song service, preceding and following the sermon, was highly praised. Mr. Makin's rendition of the famous

Straw Hat Day Will Be Observed

Saturday following an agreement among the merchants of the Twin Cities will be "Straw Hat Day," here. It is planned that no straws shall be exhibited until Saturday, and at an appointed hour the show windows shall be decked out in the latest straw sky pieces. It was declared that as a rule the styles this year were much like those for straw hats last summer.

ADVERTISES TRIO OF KIDS FOR ADOPTION

(Associated Press)
TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 11—H. C. Clayton registered at a local hotel Tuesday night from Macon, Ga. Today he inserted a classified advertisement in The Tuscaloosa News, offering his three children for adoption, giving as his reason the fact that he had been unable to find apartments or rooms here within his means, where children will be allowed.

The children are two girls, aged five and three years and an eight months old baby boy.

Clayton appears well dressed and gives his occupation as a pipe moulder. Hotel accommodations had been paid for through Thursday night.

MANY WOULD TALK AT SHOALS HEARING

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 11—Several hundred persons will appear before the senate agriculture committee, during its Muscle Shoals hearing, if all appear who have signified their intention of coming, Chairman Norris said today.

Southern delegation favoring the bill will be on hand and among others expected to appear are Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, known as a champion of government conservation of national resources and former Secretary Baker.

hymn "The Ninety and Nine," proving unusually pleasing and acceptable to the large audience. There will be no service Saturday night, Sunday night there will be a general revival service. On Monday night, Louisville and Nashville shopmen were especially invited.

Dr. Hunter spoke of the strategic location of the Twin Cities from a business standpoint, declaring that the presence here of two great trunk railroad lines, the Tennessee river when that fourth largest river of the nation is open to full navigation and the completion of the Muscle Shoals project made the Twin Cities the logical point for the building of a large center of population.

The preacher took occasion to endorse an editorial appearing in the Daily, Thursday afternoon which cautioned against lands and other property being held for too high a price, when he explained to the business

The Body Is Advised to Keep to Line in Its Probes

MELLON ALSO WAXES WARM

Row Is Precipitated Over Employment of Francis Heney

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 11—Japan has lodged with the state department a blistering protest against proposals in congress to apply further drastic restrictions to Japanese immigration to the United States.

In a note reaffirming and reducing concrete terms for the first time the gentlemen's agreement, the Japanese ambassador advised this government the exclusion proposals appear to involve the good faith of the government at Tokyo.

Phrases of unusual force in diplomacy were contained in the note immediately forwarded by Secretary Hughes to the senate, just as it was approaching the end of its debate on the immigration bill.

WASHINGTON, April 11—President Coolidge, in a message to the senate today, advised that body to maintain its constitutional and legal rights "in conducting investigations." The message, couched in direct language, was occasioned by the action of the senate committee investigating the interior revenue bureau in employing Francis J. Heney, of California, as special prosecutor, at the instance and at the expense of Senator C. W. Clegg, of Michigan, a republican member of the committee.

The president supplemented his message with a letter from Secretary Mellon in which the treasury head declared that "should unnecessary interference" with the proper exercise of his duty be continued "neither I nor any other man of character take responsibility for the treasury."

It is time that we returned to a government under and in accordance with the usual form of the law of the land," the president said. "The state of the union requires such a course."

Employment of Heney was declared by the president to be in conflict with the law and a procedure likely to throw the government into disorder.

NURSE KILLED WHEN CAR SMASHES RAIL

(Associated Press)
ATHENS, Ga., April 11—Miss Irene Day, a student nurse at St. Mary's hospital here, was killed and Dr. J. C. Prosser, one of the best known physicians in this section and another nurse Miss Nellis Everhardt, were dangerously hurt when the heavy roadster in which they were travelling to Jefferson, to perform an emergency operation, crashed through the railing on the bridge over the Seaboard railroad on the Jefferson road, just out of the city last night, shortly after 11 o'clock. The car dropped 30 feet.

Early reports were the hospital this morning indicated Dr. Prosser probably would recover, although he was still unconscious. It was said he had suffered a broken shoulder and bad bruises about the head.

Too much bankruptcy will disrupt business.

It is safe to say most college glee clubs were so named because they went on the road.

Just people may be hired to watch us; but only friends look for good qualities.

The oil investigation let the cat out of the bag
—and it was a pole cat.

Oil and water will not mix, neither will white-

General Dawes said "the job is done." Before it was completed the General modified the word
"job" occasionally.

If the dear people kicked as hard against misrepresentation as they do against taxation, they would be all right.

Nobody seems to pay much attention to the Birmingham citizen who wanted the country stopped in its mad rush toward Ford hysteria.

It is extremely doubtful if the judgments being reserved against the Ford bid are worth the deterioration cost at the Shoals.

If the ancient girls had really meant it when they recited the poem, "The lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine," the country would never have been bothered with this prohibition business.

THE FORD OFFER AND THE SENATE

The longer the opponents of Henry Ford can delay the final vote on his offer for Muscle Shoals, now in the hands of the Senate agricultural committee, the better will be their chance for blocking consideration at this session of the Congress.

From recent dispatches from Washington we gather that definite plans to prevent Ford obtaining the Muscle Shoals project are taking shape.

The public ownership group, headed by Norris, appears to be recruiting among the lukewarm supporters of the Ford proposal. The reported desertion of the Ford forces by Senator Ransdell of Louisiana, is an ominous sign.

On the other hand we have vigorous democrats asserting themselves on the Ford offer and demanding an early vote.

The indications now are that the reactionaries and the public ownership groups will join forces for the purpose of defeating the Ford proposal.
What the combined strength against the proposal would be in event of such an alliance is difficult to estimate, as Ford has some support among the regular republicans from the Middle West.

It is plain that if the Ford proposal is to be adopted it must be with the solid support of the democratic senators, and his support should be given. There has been a natural reluctance to make the issue a party one, but the minority leadership may be compelled to assert itself in the national welfare.

The refusal of a single Southern senator to support the Ford proposal is, to our mind, an error of judgment, if nothing worse. To refuse to support this proposal is to chase a will o' the wisp, while lending positive aid to the interests which have been exploiting the country for generations and which wish to obtain a waterpower monopoly for selfish reasons.—Nashville Tennessean.

THE FUTURE OF AIR TRANSPORT

While agreeing in substance with what G. Holt Thomas, an authority on air navigation, said to the Institute of Transportation in London recently regarding the importance of commercial aviation to the nations of the world, it always seems a pity that the question of army needs should so frequently be dragged into such discussions. In this case however, it was fortunately only incidentally that Mr. Thomas mentioned this point in his paper, the major part of it being devoted to the wonderful possibilities of air transport, in and of itself. As such, there seems no doubt that he is right in claiming that supremacy in this line of navigation will give to the people obtaining it a lead among the countries of the world.

"The first nation that makes aerial transport a paying proposition," he declared, "will be supreme in the world."

"London to Tokyo in three and a half days," and "London to Sydney in five days," he explained, had been attainable possibilities for several years,
and he himself had forecast, way back in 1919, that a London-Australia service would be established by this present year. As to whether his forecast is proved true can only be determined by what the next few months bring forth. The flights around the world, however, which are now being attempted by both British and American aviators, as well as the proposed trip to the North Pole, would make it unwise to deny the possibility. Actually, as time goes, a year or so makes but little difference, and it is fairly certain that such flights will take place soon.

One particularly interesting point was made by Mr. Thomas in the course of his discussion, that taking into account everything that is necessary before any form of transport can be used, the airplane is probably the cheapest mode of rapid transport that there is in use today. Flying is accomplished, he urged, in free air, without the necessity for roads or rails, or the need for the upkeep and repairs of either. This being the case, there is every reason why, as air navigation becomes more and more easily maintained, such transport should assume enormous proportions in the future. When the saving is taken into consideration, which, in many financial and similar transactions, is obtained by the gain of a few hours or days, it is obvious that this method of transportation will gain in popularity as its practicality is proven.—Christian Science Monitor.

A MOVEMENT THAT WILL NOT SPREAD

Thrifty farmers of Minnesota, believing that they have discovered the source of all the evils that afflict the country, held an "indignation meeting" recently and solemnly covenanted one with another to apply the remedy. Henceforth they are pledged to cut out all modern "luxuries" and go back to the simple life and stern realities of the fathers. Never again will the buzz of the telephone be heard in their humble homes, nor the honk honk of the automobile resound in their barnyards. The daily paper will be taboo; the tallow "dip" will take the place of the electric light; the "ol' swimmin' hole" will displace the bathtub. In short, there will be a general return to these thirty wise men of Minnesota to the good old days of the past, when each family lived within itself and produced its own necessities or went without.

Perhaps our fathers enjoyed life with the little they had as much as their degenerate descendants do with our abundance, but it must be remembered that they had never known of the many things which the present age enjoys as necessities, but which they would have considered rank luxuries. We do not miss the things of which we have never known, but we suspect that when these farmer folk of Minnesota really get back to the primitive methods of their daddies they will find a difference that is not pleasing, and will regret their hasty decision. The ox team, for instance, will not traverse the rough roads with the same ease and speed as the auto; the flickering tallow candle will not compare favorably with the flood of light that comes from the electric bulb, and the housewife who plys her needle for long hours to keep a large family decently and comfortably clothed will miss her sewing machine, and the stores where ready-made garments could be purchased far cheaper and better than any could be made at home.

The fact is these thirty farmers of Minnesota have permitted their zeal to outrun their discretion, and if they should go back to "the good old days"—which they cannot—they would not be satisfied, and would very soon return to the modern improvements which contribute so materially to their comfort and success in life. We could not live as our fathers did, and should not wish to. The ultimate end of this agreement of the thirty Minnesota farmers is easily seen. It will die of inanition. The world never goes backward for very long at a time.—Gastonia Daily Gazette.

There was a heated discussion in the Pullman smoking room.

"Here's a human nature tip that has proved itself time and again," spoke up John Aker, a dentist from beyond the Rockies. "Get somebody who is in the public eye to start something, and others will follow him.

"Our county superintendent of schools is a very able fellow, but he used to have a hard time of getting the board to raise his pay. He's one of my best friends, so I went to him one day and gave him an idea. "Dress up," I said. "Let the board see that you respect yourself, and that you have to spend money on yourself to look as you know you should. Then they'll realize that they can't hold you unless they pay you a salary that's reasonable.

"Well, sir, he liked the idea. After that he never appeared in public except when he was well dressed. And he gets more and more every year. Of course, he couldn't keep the secrets—he told it to the three ministers in our town, and pretty soon every one of them began to dress better —and get more pay.

"Then some of the town's business men began to realize that well-dressed men commanded respect, to say nothing of bigger patronage and more money. Do you know, I began to be more careful my self, because I felt responsible for the change.

"Today I verily believe the people of our town are the best dressed people in the whole state. And it all started from my slipping an idea to one influential man.

Carless Expressman.
A fellow sent a package of books up to his country home last week and if the expressman had handled it with care, as directed, it would never have sprung a leak.

How'd He Get That Way?

When a public creature, a poor fellow said. And in another moment, the same fellow expressed the opinion that "of every public work, the least part is best."

FISHING LAWS ARE EXPLAINED BY QUINN

I. T. Quinn, state commissioner of game fisheries, has made public the following statement which clears up the question of the legal rights of fishermen at this season of the year: Montgomery, Ala. April 9, 1924.

My Dear Editor.—

According to a ruling of the Attorney General the act of the legislature of Alabama, approved September 29, 1923, establishing a closed season on fresh water trout, bass and bream during the months of April and May of each year, does not apply to any of the fresh waters of the state except those used by the state for fish cultural work.

I had previously interpreted the act of the legislature as not relating to private ponds having neither egress nor ingress, such for example, as artificial ponds where farmers have constructed same for their private use nor to other private ponds wholly on one man's premises.

As the application of the act in its entirety was not clear in my mind, I recently asked the Attorney General for an opinion, with the result mentioned.

Practically every state in the union has a closed season during the chief spawning months of the principal edible game fish. Most of the Florida waters even now have a longer closed season than was written into the Alabama statutes, although Florida has much better fishing than does Alabama.

Upon the opinion of the Attorney General, fishing with hook and line, fly, troll or spinner, will not be prohibited during the months of April and May, of each year.

Very Truly,

I. T. QUINN,

Commissioner of Game and Fisheries.

This Date in History

APRIL 11

The celebrated peace of Utrecht was signed on April 11 1713 by France as one party by Great Britain, Holland, Portugal and Savoy on the other, later acceded to by Spain. Its provisions ended the twelve years war of the Spanish Succession and recognized Philip V as king of Spain. He was to renounce all claims to the throne of France; Savoy received Sicily from Spain; Prussia was acknowledged as a kingdom; Austria received the Spanish Netherlands, Sardinia, the Malinense and Naples; the protection of Holland was secured; France recognized the Protestant succession in England, and confirmed England in the occupation of Gibraltar and Minorca, and the privilege of supplying African slaves to America.

EXAMS SET.

The State Examination for public school teachers will be held at the County high school in Hartsville on April 21, 22, and 23rd. All applicants, not personally known to the County Superintendent are required by the State to furnish evidence of eligibility, and a statement of school work completed. Work begins at 9 o'clock.

MUNDELEIN BIRTHPLACE, AT AGE OF 10, STUDENT IN ROME, (Below) AS MONSIGNOR, AS AUXILIARY BISHOP & AS ARCHBISHOP

Literally from the sidewalks of New York to a principality in the Roman Catholic Church is the path George, Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago, has trod. Born at No. 65 Avenue G, in the lower East Side tenement house district of New York City, the present Cardinal student priest in the Propaganda College in Rome, and, as a result, speaks fluent Italian. Before he was 30 he was Right Rev. Monsignor Our Lady of the Isle, at Long Beach, L. I., the building of which he directed. While still a very young man he became, in 1909, the Archbishop of Chicago. Now, the sidewalks of New York far behind, though he is still a very young man, he is a Prince of the Church.

What the Press Agents Say

What will they wear at the Paris opera this season? Probably the Corinne Opera Costume, designed and worn by Corinne Griffith, acting the leading feminine role in Goldwyn's Charles Brabin production, "Six Days" by Elinor Glyn, which comes to the Princess theater today and Saturday. The Corinne Opera Costume is made of six pounds of sparkling brilliants and an ounce and a half of this frothy, frivolous material—you know, girls.

The brilliants are fashioned into a shimmering bandeau across the hair. Three strands of them reach from the crown's southern exposure at the small of the back, and reach over milady's white shoulders to the modestly high but clinging bodice. And they trickle down the gown in shimmering threads all about, pausing only at the waist in a slim girdle.

Puffed wristlets, like incandescent balloons studded with brilliants complete the Corinne Opera Costume—which is at its best with a little back-lighting.

Corinne Griffith wears it in "Six Days" in which she and Frank Mayo appear under the direction of Charles J. Brabin.

Little Mother Happy Again

"For the past nine years I have been very much distressed with bloating and stomach trouble due to constipation since I was a child. No medicine gave me more than temporary relief. I got so bad I was afraid I would have to leave my three little children. But since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy two years ago I have been entirely well; no constipation or other trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. By druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Don't Lose Sight of the Food Value of Your Bakings

Plain flour has a large amount of food value but it must be combined with good baking powder in order to retain this value.

Most self rising flours are not successful because they do not raise the bakings to the proper lightness. This means a certain loss of nutrition because they are heavy and hard to digest.

Every time you eat food that does not properly digest you do not get the full nutritional value—you are over-taxing your stomach. Nourishing and perfect bakings are what good health demands. The one sure way is—use pure flour and good baking powder.

If you want to find what thousands of housewives have learned—make some biscuits with self-rising flour—then make some with good plain flour and Calumet Baking Powder—notice the great difference. One trial will satisfy you. Your health demands that you make the experiment.

Those who know—millions of housewives, domestic science teachers, big hotels, restaurants, bakeries and railroads will not use anything but Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder.

Play safe—use Calumet and plain flour. It is the most economical and satisfactory, where light, wholesome and pure foods are desired.

COMMISSION O. K.'S REPORT OF EXPERTS

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, April 11.—The reparations commission today officially approved the report submitted to it by the expert's committee Wednesday on the German reparations question.

The recommendation of the commission is that the report be approved conditionally upon the acceptance of it by Germany.

The commission was unanimous in registering its approval.

The reparations committee will hear the German representatives regarding the report on Thursday, April 17. An official declaration by the commission signed by the president, accepting the expert's report, was issued this evening.

Unanimous decision of the commission says a Havas agency statement, was that the report offered a practicable basis for the settlement of the reparations problems.

Starched Long Ago.

History verifies the fact that the practice of starching, which came into fashion in England in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, was invented by a Spanish woman about the middle of the Fifteenth century. She wished to hide a blemish on her neck with an enormous ruff.

men, what he felt was their special duty in building up the community. In opening his sermon Dr. Hunter read from the sermon on the mount and reminded his hearers that professors of religion were the light of the world, provided they do not hide their light under a bushel and also the "salt of the earth," if the "salt has not lost its savor."

Some of the striking sayings of the preacher were as follows: "What are you worth to this community?" "Salt won't make a stale piece of meat good."

"Man has no rights that conflict with his neighbor's rights." "Don't preach a standard you are not living."

"Lots of folks haven't courage to do in the light what they do in the dark."

"The danger of the world is spiritual and moral bankruptcy; not economic failure."

The preacher said he knew Roger Babson, the world famed statistician, and that Babson said he was converted to Christianity by cold facts, and that Babson in talking "sounded like some old Methodist exhortor."

Babson was quoted as saying: "Except spirituality enters into the plans of life, character will go on the rocks." "The bootleggers say it is their corn and they will do as they like with it."

"You are not licensed to do what ever you will." "You have not the right to demand a higher standard for your wife and daughter, than for yourself and your son."

"Turn on the light in the church." "Plants must have light to blossom." "And in political life the more light the better."

"Christianity saves from materialism and moral decay."

LICE ON CHICKS

By J. C. FORD County Agent

There are many kinds of lice that infest chickens. All kinds stay on the birds day and night. The eggs or nits are laid among the feathers.

The most serious injury is done by the head louse when the chickens are small. In some cases the death rate among young chicks as a result of head lice is enormous. When the chicks begin to stand about with their eyes shut and utter a "peep, peep, peep," you may be quite sure they are suffering from head lice; and if something is not done, and that soon, the chances are that they will die.

Older birds are not often killed by lice, but the continuous irritation and restlessness caused by the crawling and biting of these parasites retard growth and cut down egg production. Birds weakened by the presence of lice are liable to other troubles.

Many remedies have been reasonably effective for the control of lice, but the most satisfactory is sodium floufid, a white powder which can be used for dusting or dipping. This remedy, if applied properly, will kill every louse and nit or egg at one treatment.

When used dry, it may be dusted with a pepper shaker or a can with small nail holes in the lid, the feathers being ruffled so that the powder will get well down to the skin. The head, neck and wings need careful attention. Less powder will be needed if the "pinch method" is employed. A "pinch" of the powder is worked into the feathers at the back of the head, one on the neck, two on the back, one on the breast, one below the vent, one in the tail, one on each thigh and one scattered on the underside of each wing when spread. By working over a large pan with either of the dusting methods, loss of powder may be prevented. It may be three or four days before all lice are dead, but none will live longer than that.

The dipping method is more rapid and less expensive and can be used without ill effects on warm, sunny days. Dissolve three fourths ounce of sodium floufid powder in each gallon of water needed to make enough for dipping the fowls. With wings held behind the back, dip the bird 20 or 30 seconds, ruffling the feathers with the hand. Dip the head for an instant. Let the bird drain a few seconds and turn loose. The lice die quickly from this treatment.

Sodium floufid is not expensive. It costs less than a cent apiece to treat grown chickens. Nearly all drug stores keep it on sale, and the others can easily get it if requested to do so.

Farmer's bulletin 801 gives full instructions for the control of mites and lice on poultry. I have a good supply on hand. Write or call for one.

Late Planting Will Be Rule in Morgan

Members of the Morgan County board of education here Friday without exception expressed the belief that crops would be planted late this year throughout Morgan County, but not quite so late as was the case last spring.

John T. Kyle, of Hartselle, took a hopeful view as to farming declaring that the people generally were entering into their work with more "pep" and determination now than in some past years.

Prof. H. T. Like, of Trinity, declared the lack of farm labor. He said that whereas he should have about 15 men on his 1,000 acre farm near Trinity, he actually had only four.

MRS. FOSTER HAD SUFFERED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Hartselle Woman Could Find
No Relief From Troubles That Beset Her Until She Began Taking Stella Vita.

"Stella Vita soon put an end to my fifteen years of suffering and I am now a well and happy woman," recently said Mrs. S. O. Foster, care of B. W. Vest, Route 2, Hartselle, Ala.

"I tell you what, I was in an awful condition and it had been going on so long I had little hope of ever getting over it. Why, every month for fifteen years I suffered horribly when my periods were due. I can't begin to describe the agony I went through, but every woman knows what it means to have those awful headaches and that sharp pain in the back and gripping, bearing-down pains through the body.

"That is the way it was with me till I tried Stella Vita. I took five bottles of this grand tonic and feel like a new woman. I never have any trouble now and all those pains and aches are but a memory of what I used to suffer but, thanks to Stella Vita, do so no longer."

NOTE—Stella Vita may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.—Advt.

Bortons Return From Florida Trip

When they reached his own state, Alabama, on their way by automobile from Florida, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Borton of the Twin Cities, had to leave their car and take a railroad coach. This they did at the city of Gadsden after coming up through the Crackers state.

Mr. Borton did not expect to explain about the quick change made necessary at Gadsden. He was too good an Alabamian as a thought at first,

Alabama Power Company

vs.
Mrs. Maud Donaldson, et al.
In the Court of Probate of Morgan County, Alabama.

TO: Mrs. Maud Donaldson, who resides at Little Rock, Pulaski County, Arkansas, individually and as custodian of Hubert Warrick and Albert Warrick; Hubert Warrick and Albert Warrick, who reside at Little Rock, Pulaski County, Arkansas; and to P. J. Roper, who resides at Mount Vernon, Jefferson County, Illinois:

You are hereby notified that Alabama Power Company, a corporation has filed its written application in this Court, seeking to condemn and to acquire the lands, rights and interests therein described for ways and rights of way upon which to erect tower, pole and wire lines and other appliances necessary or convenient in connection therewith, for the manufacture, supply and sale to the public of electric power, on, across and over a strip of land one hundred feet in width, according to the final location survey of this said ways and rights of way heretofore made by the applicant, he said strip of land and the lands of which the same is a part being situated in Morgan County, Alabama, and described as follows:

Said strip is a part of a tract of land 245 feet more or less, in width off of the west side of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section six, and is also a part of a tract of land in the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section six described as follows: Begin at the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section six, run thence due west along the south boundary of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section six for a distance of 515 feet more or less, to a point, run thence due north 660 feet to a point, run thence due east for the distance of 515 feet to a point on the east boundary of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section six, run thence due south along the east boundary of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section six to the point of beginning at the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section six, all in township six south, range four west. Said strip is more particularly described as follows: Fifty feet on each side of a line and the continuations thereof, beginning at a point on the boundary line between the lands of P. J. Roper and the lands of Mrs. Maud Donaldson, said point being located as follows: Commence on the west boundary of said section six at a point south 518.9 feet from the northwest corner of said section six, run thence south 76 degrees and 00' east for a distance of 1964.6 feet, thence south 85 degrees and 28' east for a distance of 251.3 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning on the boundary line between the lands of P. J. Roper and the lands of Mrs. Maud Donaldson, running thence from said point of beginning south 85 degrees and 28' east for a distance of 763.7 feet, more or less, to a point on the east boundary of said 245 foot tract off the west side of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of said section six. The said Mrs. Maud Donaldson, Hubert Warrick and Albert Warrick are the owners of the land described in this paragraph.

Said strip is a part of a tract of land in the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section six, township six south, range four west, said strip being described as follows: Commence on the south boundary of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of said section six at a point 515 feet west from the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of said section six, run thence due west along the south boundary of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of said section six for a distance of 585 feet to a point, run thence due north 785 feet to a point, run thence due east for a distance of 585 feet to a point, run thence due south for a distance of 785 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning on the south boundary of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of said section six. Said strip is more particularly described as follows: Fifty feet on each side of a line and the continuations thereof, beginning at a point on the boundary line between the lands of J. F. English and the lands of P. J. Roper, said point being located as follows: Commence on the west boundary of said section six at a point south 518.9 feet from the northwest corner of said section six, run thence south 76 degrees and 00' east for a distance of 1620.6 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning on the boundary line between the lands of J. F. English and the lands of P. J. Roper, running thence from said point of beginning south 76 degrees and 00' east for a distance of 344 feet, thence south 85 degrees and 25' east for a distance of 251.3 feet, more or less, to a point on the boundary line between the lands of P. J. Roper and the lands of Mrs. Maud Donaldson. The said P. J. Roper is the owner of the land described in this paragraph.

And you are further notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the court for the 5th day of May, 1924, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., and notice of said application and of the day so appointed for the hearing thereof is hereby given to you.

Witness my hand this 8th day of April, 1924.
L. P. TROUP
Judge of the Court of Probate of Morgan County, Alabama.

April 11-18-25.

but later decided it was all right for the people of the state to know the truth about road conditions in this section of the state. Mr. and Mrs. Borton have spent the winter in the land of flowers and are now here for the spring and summer. They were accompanied by H. F. Bowman, of Indiana, an old school mate of Mr. Borton.

MARIETTA MERCHANT ADDS HIS TESTIMONY

L. R. Bridges Tells of Recovery From Stomach Trouble and Gives Tanlac Full Credit.

"I could not over estimate what Tanlac has been worth to my health," declares L. R. Bridges, well-known merchant of Marietta, Ga.

"For a year or more, until last fall, stomach trouble kept me all run down in health. A drawn, knotty feeling and soreness in my stomach after eating kept me very miserable. My appetite was extremely poor and often after a night of almost no sleep I would go to my work without a bite of breakfast. With constipation added to my other troubles, my strength and energy were going down fast.

"Tanlac met every requirement in my case, and three bottles was all it took to put me back in first class condition. The treatment relieved me completely of indigestion, and added several pounds to my weight, leaving me in my present splendid health."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Georgia Lady Says She Has Grown Stronger by Taking Cardui—Thoroughly Convinced of Its Merits.

Clyattville, Ga.—In a statement which she gave at her home on R. F. D. 1, here, Mrs. T. A. Copeland said: "I have, I believe, avoided a good deal of suffering by the use of Cardui, and am thoroughly convinced that it has been of great benefit to me."

"Before the birth of two of my children, I grew so weak and nervous I could hardly go, and suffered. . . I had a friend who told me of Cardui, so the next time when I grew so weak and run-down I began to use it. I used it three months. I grew stronger and less nervous. The baby was stronger and a better baby, and I really believe it was because I built up my strength with this splendid tonic."

Cardui has been in successful use for more than forty years. Thousands of women have written to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

It is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable medicinal preparation—a product of practical experience, scientific investigation and pharmaceutical skill. Sold everywhere. NC-139

MEN AND WOMEN WHO ARE IN DAY'S SPOTLIGHT.

Below: MISS RUTH B. ESPARZA, OF PRITCHARD; ADMIRAL HILARY P. JONES, OF ALBANY. Below: GEORGE OTIS SMITH, MRS. EDITH CROKER, & WILLIAM M. HUGHES.

Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, U. S. N., are two of three members selected by President Coolidge to make a survey of oil-land conditions, to determine how the petroleum deposits of the United States and Alaska can best be conserved. Because of threats against his life, alleged to have been made by radical elements who dislike his conservatism, an armed guard has been assigned to protect J. H. Thomas, Laborite Secretary for the Colonies in the British Labor Cabinet. William Morris Hughes, former Labor Premier of Australia, in America on a visit, joined the Labor Ministry in Great Britain because it contained three Lords and was adding others. A temporary advantage, which may result in great financial gain to her, was won in New York City by Mrs. Beulah Edmonston Croker, Indian widow of Richard Croker, former head of Tammany Hall, who died on his Irish estates, in her fight against claims of Croker's sons and daughters by his first wife. Ruth B. Esparza, a girl of humble parentage from Guaymas, Mexico, has enrolled at the Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill., to fit herself for teaching the illiterate children of her native country.

"Girl in Red Tights" to Marry Prince.

CLAUDIA WHEELER

Claudia Caristeadt Wheeler, once known in musical comedy circles as the "Girl in the Red Tights," and also for her 13-year-old alimony chase of her former husband, Albert Gallatin Wheeler, Jr., well known New York clubman and financier, has admitted that she is soon to marry Ali Naba, an Egyptian prince and professor, cousin of King Fuad, of Egypt.

"Con" Man in Austria Has Devised New Game

When the proprietor of one of the leading jewelry stores in the Austrian city of Salzburg recently saw a well-dressed young couple walk into his store he had visions of a profitable deal. Consequently, when the young man, who introduced himself as "Engineer Koerner," asked to see some rings, Herr Silian spread out the finest he had.

After considerable conversation, "Engineer Koerner" picked out two solitaires, valued at 35,000,000 crowns, which figures out about $500 in real money, explaining that he was merely acting as agent for a wealthy friend, too busy to spend time in such matters, to whom he must show the rings before closing the transaction. Handing the jeweler a bundle of checks as an advance payment and courteously requesting his companion to await his return, "Engineer Koerner" left the store.

Hours passed, still the young woman sat waiting for her cavalier. Herr Silian finally grew suspicious and called up the banks and the police. Then it turned out, says the story in the Berner Tagwacht, that the young woman knew little more about her companion than did the jeweler, having only made his acquaintance a few days before in a Vienna coffee house.

The police knew a whole lot about "Engineer Koerner," however, quickly identifying him as Frederick Schiller, twenty-three-year-old barber and cafe pianist, with a long record of similar jobs, says the New York Times. When arrested "Engineer Koerner" had one of the rings in his possession, as well as 6,000,000 crowns for which he had pawned the other.

Suspension Bridge Is Moved in One Piece

When the suspension bridge, which spans the Avon gorge, was removed from its old job of spanning the Thames, it was taken to pieces and transported to Bristol bit by bit. But the new bridge at Harwich, in connection with the train-ferry service to Zeebrugge, was transported from its original position at Southampton in one piece, London Tit-Bits says.

It was a bigger job than the transporting of Cleopatra's Needle from Egypt to the Thames embankment. Of course it would have been impossible had either of the towns been situated inland, but as both were on the coast it was possible to convey the bridge by water all the way.

The simple plan was to lash two big barges together, float them under the bridge, and then lower it onto their decks. The bridge was then towed to Harwich.

The bridge was erected at Southampton during the war. To take it to pieces and transport it to Harwich by land would have cost more than the structure was worth. Hence the determination to try to break a record by taking it from one town to the other in one piece.

Liquid Light to Be Next

The simple electric light switch by means of which a room can be flooded with brilliant light, or even a whole town illuminated in a moment, was a tremendous step in advance, but we are now promised a light which never goes out. There is nothing to pay, except the original cost of buying, say, half a pint of liquid light.

This liquid light is poured into a bulb, and the resultant light is said to be superior to electric or any other known light, except nature's own brand of daylight. This light, being, in fact, radio-active, will remain good for seven years or more, when the bulb may require refilling.

It is claimed, also, that this liquid will eventually make coal and oil power a thing of the past. If that is the case, the real abolition of smoke seems to be in sight, for, although electric as long as fuel is necessary for its power is smokeless, there will be smoke generation.

Tries Out Cars on Roof

An automobile factory at Lingotto, Italy, has upon its roof, more than 100 feet above the ground, a testing track which is 3,510 feet, or nearly three-fourths mile around. It is used for experimental purposes and for testing finished cars. The track, which surrounds four open courts, is 75 feet wide, and the curves are banked 20 feet high, so that high speeds are possible.

Supplies of gasoline and oil are always at hand, and are pumped from underground tanks.—Compressed Air Magazine.

Credit for Intention

The old farmer had dropped a two-shilling piece in the kirk plate instead of a penny, and, noticing his mistake, tackled the elder at the end of the service.

"It wud be sacreeledge, Sandy, tae lug it oot noo," he said.

"Weel, I'll git credit for it in heaven," replied the farmer.

"Na, na; ye'll only get credit for a penny, for that was a' ye intendit tae pit in."

Tokio Will Build Memorial

To 34,000 Earthquake Dead
TOKIO—To preserve the memory of 34,000 persons who perished by burning and suffocation in the former military clothing depot in Honjo ward the afternoon of the September catastrophe, the city of Tokio plans to erect a memorial hall to cost 1,100,000 yen.

The collocation of the Honjo military depot was the most appalling incident of Tokio's day of disaster. Thousands took refuge in the open space of several acres, thinking to escape the flames. A sudden change of the high wind brought down on the multitude a heavy curtain of flame, smoke and gases, killing practically every one of the huddled throng.

CONTRACT LET FOR BRICK AND TILE SCHOOL BUILDING AT FALKVILLE.

Contractor G. E. Marsh, of Petersburg, Tennessee, was awarded the contract to build the brick and tile school building at Falkville. The contract was awarded last Wednesday afternoon, and calls for an expenditure of $22,400.00. The building will be erected on a site located west of the present building there, comprising five acres.

In the year 1920 the citizens of that place made a Herculean effort to build a brick school building. Material was high, labor was high, and everything culminating into the construction of a building was at the peak of prices. Large donations were liberally made, but the effort had to be abandoned on account of not getting as much money as planned as would take care of the vision held then for a school. The matter was not allowed to die, but since that time the agitation has been carried on, meeting obstacles and overcoming them until today that vision is a reality.

The building will be one of the most modern one story of its kind, and the very newest features of construction will enter into it.

Contract calls for completion on or before September 1, 1924, and work will begin early next week.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS AT DECATUR.

The Morgan County Board of Education is scheduled to meet at the court house at Decatur next Friday, for the purpose of electing a principal for the Morgan County high school for next term, to take the place of the present principal J. H. Riddle, who has tendered his resignation.

With the exception of about three terms of this institution, Mr. Riddle has been its principal since its establishment. He has a great record to his credit, not only in years taught, but the accomplishments during that period of forty years as a teacher.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS REGULAR MEETING.

The Hartselle city council held a regular meeting last Tuesday night, transacting principally routine business. Sometime was spent in discussing the improvement program now being considered, and in all probability to be carried into effect. At this time M. Patillo was re-elected a member of the city board of education.

FORD SEDAN STOLEN LAST SATURDAY NIGHT.

Fred M. Speake had the misfortune to have stolen from his premises on last Sunday night a Ford Sedan. Leaving the car in front of his residence late Sunday afternoon, he arose to find his car gone, and up to this time no trace of it has been gained. The car was evidently pushed a safe distance by hand away from the residence before starting it, and experts must have done the job, as there was no key to the starter in the car.

NATIVE CRUSHED LIMESTONE ROCK BEING APPLIED TO LAND TO INCREASE FERTILITY.

It has long been known that crush limestone rock was a splendid application to make sick land well land, and J. B. Patterson, merchant and planter of Lacon is using it in large quantities this season. Mr. Patterson several years ago bought a limestone pulverizer, and in a small way has been using it for this purpose. This season he has already applied over five hundred tons on his land, and will continue the application. He has seeded recently fifteen acres of alfalfa land, after applying a liberal coat of ground limestone. The rock comes from a mountain on his place, the rock analyzing 99 per cent calcium.

LOCAL POST OFFICE RECEIPTS GAIN 23 PER CENT OVER LAST CALENDAR YEAR.

Postmaster S. L. Sherrill makes the announcement that receipts at the local postoffice show a gain of 23 per cent over the last calendar year ending December 31, 1923. This showing only lacked the sum of $122.00 in bringing this office up to a city delivery office, employing two carriers and substitute, instead of one carrier and substitute as at present. It is hoped by the postmaster to make the necessary showing by July, thereby bringing his office up to a city delivery office.

FARMERS HERE HAVE MADE GOOD USE OF PRETTY WEATHER.

Farmers in this locality never made better use of seasonable weather than they have this week. Saturday there was a large crowd in town, and the streets presented a veritable bee hive of shoppers. Last week it was possible to get in practically a full week's work rain coming the latter part of the week. Large quantities of commercial fertilizer was carried out to all sections of the county, as much as probably 5,000 sacks were sold here on that day. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the ground worked fine and many report they have planted some corn, and prepared much cotton land for planting next week if conditions are favorable.

REV. G. C. WALKER ANNOUNCES SERIES OF REVIVAL SERVICES.

Rev. G. C. Walker, pastor of the First Baptist church announces that there will be held at his church beginning the second Sunday in June a series of revival services, same to be conducted by Dr. J. M. Walker, of Aberdeen, Miss.

Last fall Dr. Walker held a meeting here and he is pleasantly remembered by a large number who heard him on that occasion.

FINE PROGRESS MADE ON STREET IMPROVEMENTS DURING THIS WEEK.

Fine progress was made on the numerous street projects being rushed to completion here. The Texas Road company is linking up the Bee Line highway through town, and the large cement culvert connecting the north and south ends of the highway is well under way.

On the 18th of April, the city council will hold a meeting to permanently decide about the $25,000 contemplated street improvement, which if agreed to the Texas Road company will build. The board has gone on record as favoring it, and an ordinance to that effect was passed several days ago. The program calls for the reconstruction of Main street in its entirety, and other streets around the square.

He laughed at Kellogg's Bran!

Now read this letter of thanks from Mr. Kane. It speaks for itself. Remember, it is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran that it was so effective in his case—just as it has been in thousands of others. Only ALL bran can produce 100 per cent results.

My dear friend:

Imagine a young man weighing 165 pounds in the course of a few months

perked in bed, a weakling weighing 94 pounds. An elderly lady whom I knew since I was a kid paid me what she thought was a last visit. Upon being told of my plight she immediately mentioned your product for such an ailment. Maybe some of us didn't look upon her views very lightly . . . it was to laugh!

My dear friend, I am still laughing . . . not at your product, but because I am able to. I am telling you and the world at large, "Eat Kellogg's Krumbled Bran!" It should be called "Constipation's worst enemy." I owe you my heartfelt gratitude. I can talk, and whenever the opportunity presents itself, my mouth is always full of Bran—Kellogg's Krumbled. Wishing you countless days of progress, I am

Yours for success,

John M. Kane,
228 Salem St., Woburn, Mass.

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, regularly to relieve constipation permanently. Two tablespoonsful daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. You will like the delicious nut-like flavor. Sold by all grocers.

TWO VERY LATEST SILK COATS

The Newest Coats of Silk Are Lined with Colored Cloth

By ANNETTE BRADSHAW

THE latest innovation in the world of coats is seen in the soft slim models of heavy silk which exploit linings of cloth. The silk is almost always dark in tone, while the cloth which lines it offers all kinds of interesting color variety.

Kasha and light woolen materials are the favored lining mediums, while faille silk, moire and silks with satin-ribbed surfaces are favored for the coat material.

The model at the left is of navy faille silk with light weight woolen material in powder-blue for lining. These two blues are stunning together. The collar is simply a long slim band, which shows the powder-blue lining and drops its scarf ends at either side, revealing an inset pocket in each.

The coat at the right is also of faille, this time in dark brown. The soft kasha which lines it is striped in brown, tan and white. This collar drops only one scarf end. It may be worn straight or thrown back over the shoulder.

YOUR HEALTH

What to Do to Avoid and to Remedy Bronchitis

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

WE accept the common cold and its familiar trailer, nasal catarrh, as necessary evils. So long as we do this, we must expect to entertain bronchitis as a frequent, though unwelcome, guest.

Bronchitis may be acute, running its course in a few days, or it may become chronic, lingering on for months.

In the acute form it is among the common ailments of children and frail adults.

In children, adenoids and diseased tonsils have much to do with its occurrence. In some adults there seems to be a peculiar lack of resistance to it. Anything lowering the general health prepares the way for an attack of bronchitis. Among the things which bring on the attacks are colds, infectious diseases, a chilling, bad air, intestinal trouble and other debilitating things.

It is a common accompaniment of measles, scarlet fever, whooping-cough, influenza and other infections. It frequently follows pleurisy.

The chronic form is more common in persons past middle life. The attacks may occur at stated intervals each year. The conditions of city life—smoke, bad air, indoor life, late hours—predispose to it. An uneven temperature is a contributing factor.

Why the chronic or acute bronchitis is characterized by paroxysmal attacks of coughing and the expectoration of mucus. Sometimes that is streaked with blood.

There is always difficult breathing and rales—"rales" is the word doctors use to describe the rattling sound in the chest familiar to everybody who has come in contact with a case of bronchitis.

Science has not yet discovered anything that will prevent recurrence of the attacks in those who are susceptible to the disease. Uncomfortable as the attacks are to the sufferer and alarming as they sometimes appear to the observer, there is usually little danger from them.

The best way to avoid bronchitis is to keep the general health in good condition. Overcome constipation, if it is present—as it nearly always is in this condition. Eat simple food and take your meals regularly. Live in as even a temperature as possible. Avoid chilling and overheating; dust, smoke and bad air. Take regular exercise, sleep with open windows, and, above all, so far as possible, live in the sunshine and fresh air.

During the attack much comfort can be obtained by inhalations of benzoin, turpentine and creosote. If there is great difficulty in breathing, a cup-kettle and tent may be used.

Place an open umbrella over the bed, spread a sheet over this and drape it around the head and chest of the patient, making a tent. Place under the tent a kettle of boiling water to which one drachm of benzoin, ten drops of turpentine and ten drops of creosote have been added to each quart of water. The steam vapor from this gives great relief.

Bending for New Hip Beauty Truly Can Be Made Real Fun

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

Do you make your exercise a form of play?

This is the secret of enjoying any exercise you do, and incidentally the surest way of being faithful in its practice, and reaping the full beauty-results from it. The foregoing recommendation should appeal to you if you realize its importance when you see how it trains the figure into beauty proportions, and how much better you feel when you indulge in regular exercises.

Now when I suggest making it a form of play I don't mean that you can always go in for exercises that are play in themselves, such as golf and tennis and swimming and outdoor games.

But the point is to become so interested in the indoor exercises that you devise some for yourself. You'll find it interesting competition to perfect yourself in their practice, and to

Keep on at them until you perform them with the greatest ease and agility. Then you'll know that you are getting your one hundred per cent of benefit.

One good way to go about heightening your interest in indoor exercises is to take them with someone else. Surely there is some member of your family, or some friend who is near at hand who will enjoy doing the pleasure of going through beauty exercises with you.

Then you have a real competitor with whom you can play the game, to your right side. Do not move your right foot.

Now swing to your right, bending your right knee as far as you can and letting your left leg follow the diagonal line.

Swing back and forth several times. Do not tire yourself unduly the first few times you do the exercise, for it will be difficult at first.

It will come easier with practice, and its beauty-results will be well worth while, not to mention the game of perfecting the rather difficult movement.

Revelations of a Wife

The Explanation Mrs. Marks Vouchsafed Midge.

MRS. MARKS drew a long breath—she needed it—for her eulogy of Dicky had been a lengthy one. I made her no answer—it was patent that she expected no answer—but I gazed at her wide-eyed as she began speaking again. I never had met anyone like her, and her queer jargon, some of which I found trouble in understanding, together with her bizarre attitude toward the ordinary conventions of life, fascinated me.

"I know what happened that night your husband came home with his head bashed," she blabbed on, and I mentally commented that she had the advantage of me in that respect, for beyond my surmise, which Dicky had admitted, that Mollie herself was the companion of that nocturnal adventure, I was still in ignorance of its details. I smothered the temptation to learn from this outsider's lips what my husband had refused to tell me, and put up my hand in a quick protesting gesture.

"But you mustn't tell me," I said decidedly. "I don't intend to," she retorted coolly. "You know already, that Mollie bound up his head with her handkerchiefs and scarf, for I heard you two talking about it just now."

"This with an unconcerned air as though social custom backed her, she went outside keyhole. 'But you don't know what the fracas was about, and you can't yet for awhile—that's Mollie's secret for I wish it wasn't, poor girl!'"

A Point Cleared Up. She paused, her face clouding, and evidently for a second in the contemplation of her friend's troubles. Then her face cleared magically, and she looked over at me with a ganin-like grin.

"Say," she exclaimed, "did you ever notice anything funny about your husband's handkerchiefs that time—the ones with the curlycues on them? My mind gave a sudden cut back to that evening. It showed me bending over Dicky's handkerchief-box, puzzling over one that was still damp from laundering."

"Yes, you did, I can tell," my neighbor forestalled my answer.

"I know what to do! When I'm with my fiancé, I find myself continually thinking of the other and I can't quit it. But I'm not sure. What shall I do? Is it fair to my fiancé to go with him when I feel that way? If I don't go when he asks me, he will wonder why. I don't want him to know unless I'm sure."

TROUBLED BLONDE. You do not truly love your fiancé or you would never feel as you do about the other young man. However, if you are so undecided, it might be best to tell your fiancé the state of your mind and talk it over with him. Ask him to release you from your engagement until you can decide.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I was at a party one evening and was having a nice time until a boy attempted to take my bracelet. In doing this he broke it. I felt very badly over this accident because the bracelet did not belong to me. The boy said he would buy me another one to replace the broken bracelet. Should I or should I not accept the new bracelet?

ANNA O. As the young man broke the article, it is proper that he should replace it.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Lucky Homely Girls

Copyright, 1924, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

PROFESSOR GUYON, the man who divided his millions with the men and women who stood by him when he was a failure, the other day, says that homely girls are the best dancers.

And Professor Guyon ought to know for he has had a dancing club in his pocket for ten or fifteen years in Chicago.

He's made a lot of money out of the dancing craze—and he loves the sounds of a saxophone and he could whistle jazz in his sleep if he wanted to.

He's seen all kinds, old and young, slim and chubby, pretty and ugly, and he has now announced to the waiting world that the pretty girl is almost always not quite as good a dancer as her homely sister.

Well, now, I wonder if that's true. Somehow, it seems to me that the pretty girl can usually sing and dance and play the ukulele and ride a horse and paddle a canoe and row a boat and swim a stream just a little better than her homely sister.

She's cut out to be attractive and her sister is cut out to be useful. She can add a column of figures, bake a pan of biscuits, cut out her own dress, make her own hats, get herself a job—and keep it—pretty or no pretty, and somehow she always seems to me the luckier of the two.

Look Around

Did you ever notice how many homely girls marry successful men?

Of course the great beauties have a different story, but we are not talking about beauties, we're talking about everyday, Sunday and Monday and Friday "pretty girls"—the sort that all the boys are crazy about when they first know them, the kind who have a dozen suitors for every dance and half a dozen invitations for every party and they marry and settle down and in three or four years they aren't pretty at all any more—you know the type.

You've envied that sort of girl a dozen times, little Miss Plain and Sensible; you wouldn't own it for the world, but you have. She always has such good times and gets so many letters and so many telephone calls and everybody is glad to see her and the ugliest old hat in the world looks like something straight from Paris when she puts it on her curly head and nobody expects her to know anything—much—or to do anything—much.

And things are always so easy for her. But wait a minute! What sort of man does she marry as a usual thing? Look around you now and see.

How to Make Delicious Cakes and Cookies for Tea.

CAKES that keep, and cookies slowly, another small cupful of flour and add a teaspoonful of any liked flavoring. Lightly grease and flour the pan and bake the cake in a medium oven. When it is cool, frost it with a soft frosting. The yolks of the eggs may be used up in making a gold cake in the same exact proportions, only two whole eggs in addition should be used. All the yolks should be used together and the whites should be beaten separately. This makes a delicious golden cake, but it is not quite as delicate as the silver cake.

Grandmother's Cookies. Cream together, three-quarters of a cupful of butter, a tablespoonful of pure lard and two cupfuls of sugar. When they are creamed work in slowly with the hand, five cupfuls of sifted flour, a saltspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of baking powder, two well beaten eggs and a half cupful of rich milk. Knead the ingredients together, roll the dough on a floured board, sprinkle it with rose-water, unless vanilla has been added with a little grated nutmeg. Roll the dough thin, cut it in desired shapes and bake it in a buttered, shallow pan in a brisk oven.

This is one of the old-fashioned, so called "delicate" cakes that were made, flavored with almonds, by most of our grandmothers. It is just as much of a treat to-day and may be flavored to suit any taste. Cream together, a scant cupful of butter with a level two cupfuls of sugar. Grandmother used to cream the butter and sugar with her hand though it may be done with a wooden spoon. When creamed, add the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs, mix them well, add a small cupful of rich milk, then sift in two cupfuls of pastry flour with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder. When these ingredients are well mixed and beaten light, sift in

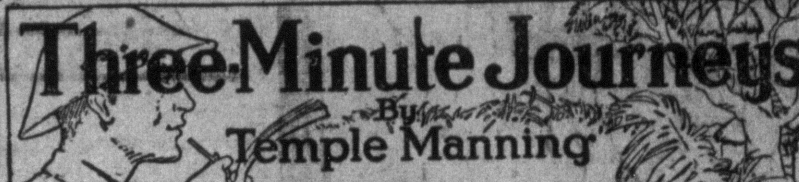

Don't think of the girl you know now, think of the ones who've been married in the last two or three years. There's Kitty, the little blonde. Dear me, what a belle Kitty was. She could have married any one of three or four nice young fellows and she chose the best dancer and the best dresser in the crowd and now they're living up in Harlem in a walk-up-all-the-way flat and Kitty hasn't been to a party for six months. Her husband says he can't afford parties. He's just a clerk and always will be just a clerk.

Think It Over

Jane used to have the desk next to Kitty in the office, don't you remember? Quiet, sensible little thing, Jane, fresh looking and pleasant to see, but not a trace of beauty. Let's see, who was that she married, one of the boss's friends, wasn't it? They're living down in Long Island in a country house. Jane has beautiful furs now and a retinue of servants and she's a home maker and she has the dearest little boy ever saw and she's planning to bring up a whole family of children. Her husband is fond of children and so is Jane. Oh, yes, they belong to the country club and the yacht club and all the rest of it, but they don't seem to go out much. Jane's interested in her gardening and her baby and she and John read together a great deal. Yes, Jane certainly married well.

It's a way they have—the plain little girls who are never belles. Think of all the big men you know, men who amount to something, men who can be late at a conference and keep the others waiting if they happen to feel like it. How many of them married beauties and how many of them married nice, plain, quiet girls, just to get a nice, plain, quiet wife.

Think it over, little Miss Plain and Quiet, think it over. You'll find that the pretty girl hasn't all the cards in the deck in her own hands after all.

DO YOU KNOW THE GREAT CITY OF "VICTORIA"?

Few who are not earnest students of geography could tell you of the existence in China of a large city named "Victoria," and fewer still could give its location.

The explanation is that Victoria is commonly referred to as Hong-Kong. Hong-Kong is an island, about a mile off the southeast mainland of China. It belongs to Great Britain, and Victoria is the capital of the colony, which not only includes the island of Hong-Kong, with an area of twenty-nine square miles, but several hundred square miles of mainland secured from China at different periods.

The harbor of Victoria is very commodious and always lively. It is full of shipping from all over the world, including warships of nearly every nation. It was at Hong-Kong that Dewey's little squadron was lying when war broke out between Spain and the United States, and the British naval officers gave the Americans a farewell dinner, believing they were going to certain destruction against the forts at Manila and the guns of the Spanish fleet.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of nineteen. I have been going with a young man for over a year. We have been engaged for about three months. He loves me. It would go hard with him if he had to give me up. I loved him very dearly. There isn't anything I wouldn't do for another young man. I liked him very much from the first, and have seen him at parties two or three times since. Now I find myself comparing the two in favor of the latter. I still haven't convinced myself which one I love better.

Nothing like this has come up since I became engaged. I am fighting it in my mind, but I don't know what to do! When I'm with my fiancé, I find myself continually thinking of the other and I can't quit it. But I'm not sure. What shall I do? ## CLOTHING CONTEST IS SET FOR CAPITAL

Special to The Daily.

AUBURN, April 9.—The first state clothing contest for Alabama will be staged in Montgomery, April 24-26, according to announcement made today by Miss Josephine Eddy, clothing specialist for the Alabama extension service. It will be conducted under the auspices of the standardization committee of the Alabama Home Economics Association, of which Miss Corinne Neely, of Alabama College, Montevallo, is chairman, and the other two members are Miss Louise Keys, of Montevallo, and Miss Eddy.

Preparatory work for this contest has been in progress since July, 1923. Under the direction of county home demonstration agents and of high school teachers of home economics, hundreds of girls throughout the state have made clothes and participated in local and county contests. The winners of these contests will enter the state contest at Montgomery, where about 200 girls are expected.

Members of fifty-six clubs in eleven counties have entered the contest under the direction of home demonstration agents, and high school girls in twenty-seven contests are competing also.

Counties in which club girls are taking part are: Clarke, Clay, Colbert, Lauderdale, Franklin, Madison, Tuscaloosa, Chambers, Crenshaw, Escambia, Macon and Mobile. Counties in which high school girls are taking part are: Auburn, Bibb, Calhoun, Chambers, Clarke, Clay, Colbert, Conecuh, Crenshaw, Gullman, DeKalb, Elmore, Escambia, Jefferson, Lee, Limestone, Madison, Madison, Marion, Marshall, Mobile, Montgomery, Shelby, Sumter, Talladega, Walker and Wilcox.

Three entries are possible for each school or club. These entries are: a school costume, an afternoon costume, and a midday suit. Each entry is limited to one gown and linen, and the winners are entitled to enter the state contest.

The girls will reach Montgomery on the afternoon of April 23 and the forenoon of April 24, and during the 24th they will be entertained while their garments are being judged from the standpoint of workmanship. On the 25th each girl will put on the clothes which she has made and have her costume judged as a whole. The contest will close on April 26 with the announcement of prize winners.

Special scholarship prizes of $50 to the winner of first place and $25 to the winner of second prize are offered by the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation. Merchandise prizes are offered by the following Montgomery merchants: A. Nachman, field's millinery, Machman and Mertieff, Alex. Rice, Fair, Klein, Campbell's and McKenney's.

Information reaching Auburn is to the effect that the clothing club girls thrilled over this contest and competition is keen in all contests which are now being held to determine the prize winner for the state contest.

Grim Paris Prison to Become Museum

PARIS—The old "Conciergerie," the medieval prison on the Island of the city in the heart of Paris, will be transformed into a "Museum of Justice and Police," where children of the primary and high schools, may come to study the evolution of the methods of detecting crime and administering justice through the ages.

The sombre walls of the prison, with its dark dungeons, still contain all the instruments of torture in use during feudal times to extract confessions from men charged with crimes or misdemeanors. Documents showing the plots, counter-plots and intrigues of the Renaissance, and the uprising and violence of the nation during the Revolution have been preserved in its cellars.

A bill has been introduced in the Chamber of Deputies by M. Petitjean, requesting the government, in view of the great crime wave now sweeping France, murders, acts of violence and thefts, to gather these historical relics into a museum, so as to instill into the minds of youth a salutary fear and horror of crime.

All the political upheavals and religious wars of the last thousand years have contributed to the history of and left their mark upon the old prison. Originally it formed a part of the palaces of the kings of France. It was rebuilt by Saint Louis, and became a prison under Charles V, who in 1391 placed there in irons and chains a certain number of citizens of Nevers and the Nivernais, who had raised the standard of rebellion against his rule.

In the fifteenth century the Count of Armagnac, Grand Constable of France, six bishops, several members of parliament, and a number of women and children, were massacred there without mercy by the populace.

Count Louis de Berquin, a nobleman from Picardy, was burned alive there by order of Francis I.

Catherine de Medici had Count Montgomery put to death within the prison walls.

Ravallac, the assassin of Henry IV, was tortured and quartered in the yard, which now serves as a stable for the horses of the Parisian mounted police.

Damiens, who attempted to slay Louis XV, and Cartouche, the famous highwayman, were guest of the prison under the last of the Bourbons.

During the revolution more than 1,200 prisoners were packed in the building where the mob broke down the doors and massacred the majority of them. It later became known as the "waiting room for the guillotine."

Marie Antoniette, Madame Elizabeth, the sister of Louis XVI, and Robespierre, awaited their trials in the Conciergerie.

The aspect of the building is forbidding, three high towers commanding the entire island. In the largest tower is found the "hall of tortures" so often described by writers.

REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING

Pursuant to a call of the republican executive committee of Morgan County, Alabama, a republican mass meeting will be held at the city hall in Decatur, Alabama at 12 o'clock noon, on May 13, 1924, for the purpose of electing delegates for Morgan County to the republican state convention to be held in Birmingham, Ala., May 20, 1924; and electing delegates to the republican district convention to be held at Decatur, Ala., May 19, 1924, for the 8th congressional district of Alabama and for the purpose of transacting such other party business as may legally come before said meeting.

All qualified electors of said county who believe in republican principles without regard to past political affiliations are invited to join in said mass meeting under this call.

April 10, 1924.

TO CONSIDER QUESTION

(Associate) Press

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The shipping board has called a meeting for next week to consider whether the date decided on for enforcement of section 28 of the merchant marine act, granting preferential freight rates to premature, Commissioner Thompson disclosed today before the house merchant marine committee.

You can be free from Eczema!

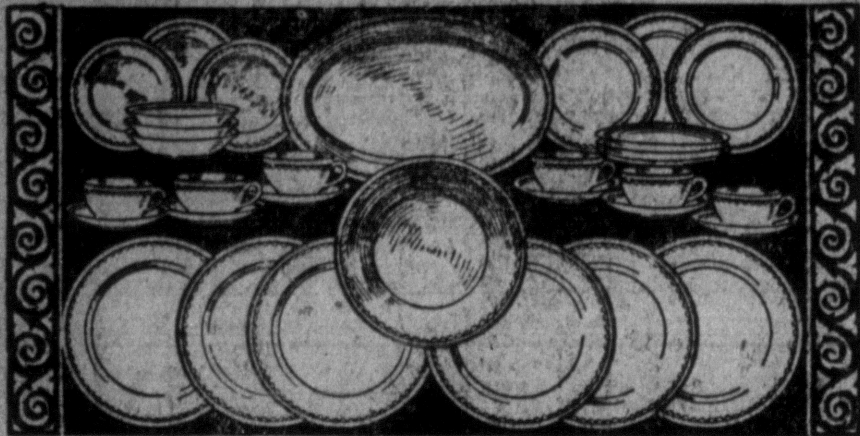

WIERD, creeping, annoying sensations—scratch—scratch—eczema and other skin eruptions, spoiling your complexion—causing you uneasiness for embarrassment—anguish—ruling your temper. All because of impurities that are rampant in your system—because your red blood cells are dormant.

S. S. S. clears up skin eruptions through its power of cleansing the blood. Herbs and barks, carefully selected and scientifically prepared and proportioned, which make up the ingredients in S. S. S. are the most feared and dreaded enemies of skin disorders. Eczema, pimples, boils, blackheads and other skin diseases pack up and leave the system when S. S. S. sends new rich blood coursing through your veins.

Have a general house cleaning for your system. Let S. S. S. rid you of those impurities which tend to keep you in a run-down condition. Skin disorders are nothing more than bill-boards announcing that the system is "off color." S. S. S. is sold by the leading drug stores. The large size bottle is the more economical.
